60. Following are some of the county's governmental funds. The county has asked you to determine if any of the funds listed should be classified as major funds based on the GASB size criteria. Clearly indicate which fund(s) you believe should be classified as major and provide support for your choice(s).

	General Fund	Special Revenue Fund	Debt Service Fund	Total of all Governmental Funds	Total of all Governmental & Enterprise Funds
Assets	12,000,000	1,000,000	500,000	15,000,000	21,000,000
Liabilities	3,000,000	250,000	30,000	4,580,000	5,890,000
Revenues	10,000,000	600,000	1,450,000	13,770,000	17,123,000
Expenditures/Expenses	9,859,000	725,000	1,300,000	13,460,000	16,665,000

Debt Service Fund – The size criteria states that a fund must be at least 10% of the total of all governmental funds for at least one of the elements (assets, liabilities, revenues, expenditures/expenses), and it must be at least 5% of the total of all governmental funds and enterprise funds for the same element. The debt service fund meets the size criteria for revenues since 10% of the total of all governmental funds is $1,377,000 and 5% of the total of all governmental and enterprise funds is $856,150, both of which the debt service fund exceeds. (The thresholds for the other three elements are: assets—10% is $1,500,000, 5% is $1,050,000; liabilities—10% is $458,000, 5% is $294,500; expenditures/expenses—10% is $1,346,000, 5% is $833,250.)

General Fund – the General Fund is always classified as a major fund and it meets the size criteria for all of the elements.

Essay Questions

61. List the basic financial statements required by GASB standards and briefly explain their purposes.

The basic financial statements include two government-wide financial statements, seven fund financial statements, and notes thereto. The government-wide statements are a statement of net position and statement of activities designed to report on the operational accountability of the government as a whole. The fund financial statements that follow are designed to report on the government's fiscal accountability for spending according to legal budgets, laws, and agreements with resource providers. A balance sheet and statement of revenues, expenditures, and changes in fund balance are required for governmental-type funds, as well as a reconciliation of the change in fund balances to change in net position at the government-wide level. A statement of net position; a statement of revenues, expenses, and changes in fund net position; and statement of cash flows are required for proprietary-type funds. A statement of net position and statement of changes in net position are required for fiduciary funds.

62. "The primary purpose of an accounting system for a state or a local government is to make it possible for financial statements to demonstrate compliance with finance-related legal and contractual provisions." Explain why you believe this statement to be correct or incorrect.

The statement is not correct. The GASB specifies that a governmental accounting system must make it possible both to prepare statements in conformity with GAAP and to prepare legal compliance reports. The former are the basic financial statements on which auditors express an opinion; the latter are special purpose reports that may or may not be accompanied by auditors' reports.

63. Explain the difference between measurement focus and basis of accounting. Also, explain the difference between the economic resources measurement focus and the current financial resources measurement focus as well as the difference between the accrual and modified accrual bases of accounting. Which funds and government-wide activities use each focus and each basis?

Measurement focus describes what is measured; that is, the nature of the resources, claims against resources, and flows of resources that are measured and reported by a fund or activity. The basis of accounting describes when things are measured. The economic resources measurement focus reports on the balances and flows of both current and noncurrent assets and liabilities, whereas the current financial resources focus reports only on the balances and flows of current assets and liabilities. The accrual basis of accounting recognizes revenues when earned and expenses when incurred, where the modified accrual basis recognizes revenues when measurable and available for current spending and expenditures when a current liability has been incurred. Governmental funds use the current financial resources measurement focus, and proprietary and fiduciary funds use the economic resources measurement focus. Governmental funds use the modified accrual basis of accounting. Proprietary and fiduciary funds use the accrual basis of accounting. Governmental and business-type activities at the government-wide level report on net position and activities using the economic resources measurement focus and the accrual basis of accounting.

Learning Objective: 02-02 Explain the Governmental Accounting Standards Board's (GASB) integrated accounting and financial reporting model, including: Elements and measurement approaches for the elements of the financial statements; Government-wide financial statements; Fund financial statements; Definition of fund and principles of fund accounting; Types of funds in each fund category and characteristics of each fund type.

Topic: Financial reporting model

64. List the seven fund financial statements that are required as part of the basic financial statements by GASB standards. What measurement focus and basis of accounting should be used in preparing each of these statements?

These seven fund statements are required in the basic financial statements (assuming that an entity has funds in each of the three fund types):

- Balance sheet-governmental funds
- Statement of revenue, expenditures, and changes in fund balances-governmental funds
- Statement of net position-proprietary funds
- Statement of revenues, expenses, and changes in fund net position-proprietary funds
- Statement of cash flows-proprietary funds
- Statement of fiduciary net position
- Statement of changes in fiduciary net position

In addition, a reconciliation of (1) the total fund balance of governmental funds from the balance sheet-governmental funds to the governmental activities net position from the government-wide statement of net position, and (2) the change in total fund balances of governmental funds from the statement of revenue, expenditures, and changes in fund balances-governmental funds to the change in governmental activities net position from the government-wide statement of activities, are required on the face of the financial statements or as separate schedules.

The governmental funds are accounted for using the current financial resources measurement focus and modified accrual basis of accounting. The proprietary and fiduciary funds are accounted for using the economic resources measurement focus and accrual basis of accounting (except for certain liabilities of defined benefit pension plans and related postemployment healthcare plans).

65. Explain the nature of the three major activity categories of a state or local government: governmental activities, business-type activities, and fiduciary activities. Provide examples of each.

Governmental activities are those core governmental services, together with general administrative support. Examples include public safety, public works (e.g., road and bridge maintenance), parks and recreation, cultural, and social services. Business-type activities are those that are self-supporting through user charges for services they provide, although operating subsidies from general tax revenues are not uncommon. Typical examples include public utilities, such as water and sewer, transportation systems, golf courses, and swimming pools. Fiduciary activities are those in which the government acts in a fiduciary capacity, either as an agent or trustee, for parties outside the government. Examples include trust funds that benefit individuals and organizations outside of the government.

66. Describe the comprehensive annual financial report (CAFR). What are the sections of the report and which components of the organization should it include? Is a CAFR required?

The CAFR is recommended, but not required. The CAFR is comprised of three sections: (1) introductory section, (2) financial section, and (3) statistical section. All activities of the primary government and its component units should be included in the reporting entity covered by the CAFR. The minimum financial reporting requirements include (1) MD&A, (2) basic financial statements, and (3) required supplementary information other than the MD&A.
